DFW ADDS THREE NEW INTERNATIONAL DESTINATIONS FOR SUMMER TRAVEL

May 21, 2002

AIRPORT AGAIN AT PRE-9/11 LEVEL OF 30 GLOBAL CITIES - MORE NEW CITIES IN THE WORKS

DFW INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT, Texas (May 21, 2002) — DFW Airport announced its 28th and 29th new international destinations today, giving travelers new gateways to Latin America and the Caribbean while nearly restoring DFW's pre-9/11 service level to 30 international cities.

Allegro Airlines, Mexico's largest leisure/charter airline, will begin operating between DFW and Punta Cana, Dominican Republic beginning on May 29. Service will be operated twice a week, and will be flown on behalf of FunJet Vacations. Grupo Taca will begin flying a new daily nonstop flight between DFW and San Salvador, El Salvador on June 14. In addition, American Airlines will add a new daily flight between DFW and Guatemala City, Guatemala on June 15. Grupo Taca is currently serving the nonstop DFW-Guatemala market.

These latest additions are the result of DFW's aggressive outreach to add new air service in the post-9/11 era.

"We are indeed encouraged by the response we're receiving from our current carriers and other low-fare carriers in adding new service at DFW," says Joe Lopano, DFW's executive vice president of marketing. "In fact, Grupo Taca's decision to add the San Salvador route came just a couple of weeks after our meeting with the airline in El Salvador. It's clear the international business is slowly but surely coming back, and the airlines want to make sure they are positioned to share in the recovery."

Key service restorations since 9/11 include Korean Airlines flying three round trips per week to Seoul, and American Airlines reinstating its double daily service to Montreal. American also added flights to its Tokyo route.
